

HUGO AND PLATO

Story theme- Owl Babies

Week beginning 2nd October 2023

REMINDERS

Next week, on Monday, it is Hello Yellow World Mental Health day.

Future dates:

On Friday 20th October, the HOPE team are hosting a coffee and cake morning 9-11am in the school hub.

NEXT WEEK

We are continuing to use the story of Owl Babies to base our activities around. We are going to continue to look at different homes and explore using different materials.

HUGO

This week the children have been exploring the story Owl Babies. Inspired by this we have created owl paintings using a pom pom and peg to dab the paint on with. The children have explored mark making and used play dough and loose parts to make owls or other creations. We've shared photos of the children and their families from those we have been sent in. They've also practised building family homes and nests using wooden blocks, twigs and shredded paper. The children have worked really well to follow what is now more of a familiar learning environment to them and they've shown great curiosity about their classroom, through play, studying books and trying to help with our daily routine. We're extremely proud of how the children are doing. Well done Class Hugo!

PLATO

This week Plato have been exploring the story 'Owl Babies'. We shared a sensory story and have counted how many owls are in the nest.

During our Understanding the World sessions, we learnt about types of houses from around the world. We also tested the strength of different materials to see which would make the best and strongest house.
